growth of the cash balance and the surplus to go on almost unchecked.

Internal Revenue Receipts.

It was estimated early in 1901, at the time of the measure for repealing the war taxes was under consideration Ly the Senate Finance Committee, that the Number of Promotions Made in Postofproposed amendments would cause a falling off in internal revenue receipts during the fiscal year of not less than $10,000,000. The prosperity of business has been such, however, that the re-

Outlook for New Year.

The Treasury officials believe that the outlook for the new fiscal year, which begins today, is entirely hopeful. The additional repeal of war taxes, which will take effect today, is astimated to reduce the gross income from internal revenue by about $75,009,000 in the next twelve-months, but on the basis of this year's receipts and expenditures, there would still be a surplus on June 30 next of at least $17,000,000.

As a matter of that, the coming year a surplus will probably be much larger than that, this expectation being brace than that, this expectation being brace than that, the expectation being brace than that, the expectation being brace than that, the expectation being brace that the country and the probable decrease of the country and the probable decrease ton, i.e. R.
